Lily's Crossing

During the summer of 1944, Lily can't escape the effects of World War II even during her vacation at Rockaway on the Atlantic Ocean. Her new friendship with Albert, a refugee boy from Hungary is based on shared secrets and Lily has one that might cost Albert his life.

No More Dead Dogs

Wallace Wallace's honest opinion of the book Old Shep, My Pal annoys his English teacher who sentences him to attend rehearsals of the play based on that story until his opinion changes. He doesn't change his mind, but he does make a few hilarious changes in the play.

So B It

Heidi's unconventional lifestyle is complicated when her mother begins using a mysterious new word. Her search for the truth takes her on a cross-country journey to look for the secrets in her past.

The Ballad of Lucy Whipple

The gold fields of California don't suit Lucy Whipple. She vows to be miserable until she can move back East, but surprisingly, home might be a lot closer than she thinks.

Honus and Me

Joe knows EVERYTHING about baseball—except how to play well. When a lucky discovery in a neighbor's attic makes him the owner of the most valuable baseball card in history, he wakes up face-to-face with the star of the 1909 World Series. They go on a journey through time that changes both their lives forever.

The Tiger Rising

Twelve-year-old Rob Horton is stunned to encounter a tiger pacing back and forth in a cage. On the same day, he meets Sistine Bailey, a girl who shows her feelings as readily as Rob hides his. As they learn to trust each other, Rob and Sistine prove that some things can't be locked up forever.

A Mango Shaped Space

Me, Mop, and the Moondance Kid

Although adoption has taken them out of the institution where they grew up, eleven-year-old T.J. and his younger brother Moondance remain involved with their friend Mop's relentless attempts to become adopted herself and to wreak revenge on their baseball rivals the obnoxious Eagles.

Heat

Pitching prodigy Michael Arroyo is on the run from social services after being banned from playing Little League baseball because rival coaches doubt he is only twelve years old and he has no parents to offer them proof.

I love this book! I'm so happy I chose it.

Candy Shop War

Four young friends are befriended by a not-so-normal candy shop owner. Her confections have magical side effects. Purposefully, she invites the kids on a special mission to retrieve a hidden artifact rumored to be a fountain of youth. However, the not-so-ordinary ice cream truck driver in town has a few tricks of his own.
